1. RILEARTISTE is a Paris-based artist chasing the tropics wherever she is. Her inspiration and figurative paintings come from Reunion Island (near Madagascar) and California. Her artworks combine mixed or acrylic media in colourful mixes. Visit www.RileArtiste.com and follow @rileartiste on Instagram to dive into the tropics!

2. DEBBIE CHAMLATI is a Mexican artist who presents hyperrealist art and portraits which transmit and question human emotions. Having studied Graphic Design, Debbie's career has evolved into painting which has always been her passion. She has exhibited worldwide in New York, Madrid, Austria and Mexico. Pictured here is 'Plastic'. Visit elblogdedebbie.com and follow @debbiechamlati.art on Instagram.

3. RACHEL WILSMAN creates empowering artworks that challenge female aesthetics. Rachel uses different concepts to reflect womanhood, including history, fashion, emotions and anatomy. Feminine features such as forms are often emphasised to bring across the meaning of the painting. Pictured: 'The Audacity (12Aface)'. Acrylic on linen, 120 x 100 cm. Visit www.rachelwilsman.com and follow @rachelwilsman on Instagram.

4. JUNE HOLLOWAY has been a portrait artist for thirty years, and works in oil and pastel. Her paintings are in London, Kansas, Florida, Washington DC, Texas, and Guatemala. She studied with Daniel Greene for three weeks, and for six years she painted Miniatures qualifying for the MAA, a prestigious award. Visit www.juneholloway.com or get in touch via email juneholloway@gmail.com

5. RONJA CHLEBOWSKI is a Berlin-based German artist, is renowned for her abstract artworks. Using materials like acrylic, high pigments, spray paint, oil markers, and sandpaste, she crafts pieces on handmade raw cotton canvases. Her unique inspiration comes from the world's pulsating energy, infusing her art with vitality and dynamism. Visit www.ronjachlebowski.de and follow @ronjachlebowski on Instagram.

6. HELEN SADLER is a British artist, living in Ibiza, creating beautiful and elegant abstract paintings with acrylics on canvas. She takes her inspiration from nature all around Ibiza. Each artwork uniquely captures an energetic explosion of colour. To see more work and exhibitions, follow @helensadler on Instagram or visit www.helensadlerart.com

7. ROELIE DOLW is a classically trained artist from The Netherlands, best known for her sensitive paintings of human portraits and figures. In 2024, she joined the 'Masters of Realism', an elite group reserved for the top 250 contemporary Dutch painters. Find out more at www.roeliedolw.nl and follow @roeliedolw on Instagram.

8. Internationally collected Irish artist FOY O'CONNOR has a passion for colour. He paints vivid landscapes, seascapes and animals using oil on canvas. He applies his unique perspective, light and colour, creating a distinctive style that is uniquely his. Turning the ordinary into the extraordinary. Visit coinoconnor.com and follow @coinoconnorartist on Instagram.

9. ASTA ALPAY, a young international artist from Istanbul, paints abstracts where she plays with colours and materials, and is a firm believer of personal experience in art viewership. You can see how rich colours and metallics tell a new story to each appreciator in her abstract art. Explore at www.astyalpay.com and follow @astyalpayart on Instagram.

10. ADELINA VASSEVA is a 'Poster and Visual Communication' graduate from the National Academy of Arts in Sofia, Bulgaria. She is currently based in her hometown of Plovdiv.
